

Judson Wall, DDS, TMJ Dental Health Center

Dr. Judson Wall has a whole-health approach to dentistry. He and his staff help patients and their families feel better and lead healthier lives through the use of cutting-edge technology and a holistic approach to treatment. "The body has a blueprint...and has everything it needs to heal itself" given the proper conditions, he says. He considers the best parts of both Eastern and Western medicine and would like to see a marriage of two approaches used to treat patients. "Everything we do is an energy pathway," he says, "and we need to modify the pathways to keep them in balance."

Through his practice, the TMJ Dental Health Center in Bountiful, Wall has been practicing dentistry since 2000, and became a Fellow of the Academy of General Dentistry in June of 2007. His dental practice focuses on chronic pain management, obstructive sleep disorders, and Temporomandibular Joint and Muscle disorders (TMJ).
